Trends and Challenges of Agrarian Sector

European agricultural has been facing several challenges in the light of climate change and resource scarcity on one side and technological advances such as digitalization and robotisation on the other side. What will be the future of European agriculture? How will it affect farmers, society and rural regions? What will be the structure of production? Can European agriculture cope with the increasing demand for food when the new sustainability standards will be applied?

The conference intends to provoke discussion about the challenges and the future of European agriculture. The general topic of the conference provides not only a platform for discussing theoretical issues, but also for sharing experiences, identifying practical problems and exploring which solutions can be clarified with the assistance of the scientific community. This calls for papers from researchers, academics and practitioners in the fields of agricultural economics and management, informatics, agricultural policy and rural development. Authors are invited to submit abstracts in electronic format via the link ap.pef.czu.cz by 13th March 2020.
